Simply click the "Register" link in the "Member Login" panel on the MIDUGNV homepage. Fill out the registration form and click the "Send Registration" button. Once you have registered, you will immediately be able to view forums, and access member-only portions of the site. As an extra security measure, your membership will be hand-activated by one of the moderators - this will allow you to submit articles, and poste web links. We appologize for this extra security measure, however it is necessary to keep out web-bots.
